NEW LEASE OF LIFE FOR THE PEPPERPOT

Essential work to refurbish the iconic Pepperpot has been identified along with works needed to be able to offer Godalming businesses a centrally located modern meeting and training room. An internal refurbishment will mean that a suitable environment will be created to, not only meet the needs of Godalming's SME business market, but also assist the Town Council's desire to enhance the educational provision of Godalming Museum by providing a safe classroom environment for visiting school groups.

A spokesman for Godalming Town Council said "Godalming Town Council is delighted to have this opportunity to bring life back to Godalming's iconic Pepperpot, which has been made possible once again by the generosity of The Peter Caudle Memorial Trust. Peter was a staunch guardian of the historic character of the town and especially the Church Street area and we are sure he would approve of our plans to give the old Council Chamber a new lease of life". The support of the Peter Caudle Memorial Trust will ensure that the refurbishment of the building will be carried out sympathetically and in keeping with its listed status.
