POTHOLED PATH A THING OF THE PAST AT THE BURYS ALLOTMENTS

Godalming Town Mayor and Surrey County Councillor Penny Rivers has supported efforts to improve a footpath in Godalming that runs between Church Street and Moss Lane which passes alongside The Burys allotments. Councillor Rivers provided part of her Local Fund Allocation for Surrey County Council to re-lay this path, which is used by hundreds of people including children travelling to and from Moss Lane School, whilst Godalming Town Council undertook environmental enhancements to open up the area and install new attractive fencing at the allotments. Working together the two Councils have transformed an area which previously had a potholed path which was covered in overhanging vegetation.

Councillor Rivers said, "This path is used by hundreds of people every day. I am pleased that, by working together, Surrey County Council and Godalming Town Council have really improved this much-loved path which benefits visitors and residents alike."
