

The jewellery trinket trays have been created with decoupage and embellished with hand painted detail. They are pre-loved items which have been given a new lease of life.

Carefully crafted unique pieces using ethically sourced products such as sea glass, or pre-loved items which have been thoughtfully upcycled.

handmade, sustainable jewellery

Sea glass has an enduring charm. It is glass which has undergone a sea-tumbled weathering process which produces natural frosted glass. Sea glass can take up to 100 years to acquire its distinctive texture and shape. The pieces I use have been handpicked at Seaham on the Durham Heritage Coast and Lyme Regis in Dorset.

These pendants have been made using recycled metal rings. They are hand painted with textured acrylic.

No two pieces are the same.

A variety of designs and colours are available and no two items are identical.
