TOWN MAYOR THANKS VOLUNTEERS

Volunteers, who give up so much of their time to serve the community, are the town's unsung heroes. In Godalming we are fortunate to have so many people, volunteering in so many different areas. Godalming's Annual Town Meeting held on Thursday, 14 March gave the opportunity for the Mayor, Councillor Adam Duce to say thank you to four worthy volunteers who were nominated by other members of the community.

The Mayor's Volunteer Award recognises the service to the community of the nominees for their outstanding contribution to others.

This year's recipients were Simon Bragman who volunteers for the charity The Brigitte Trust; which gives assistance to local people who need help at home, Sandy Crowther, who also volunteers for The Brigitte Trust, Vanessa Lanham-Day for all her work in running the Green Hub Project and Sue W for all her support to people who have suffered domestic abuse. All were presented with framed certificates and a Godalming town badge; a small token of gratitude for their hard work and dedication.

Speaking recently, Councillor Adam Duce said: "It was a privilege to present the Mayor's Volunteer Award to worthy local residents who make such a positive difference to the lives of others. It's so gratifying to have this opportunity to show how Godalming promotes community."
